CLUBWOMEN BEGIN YEAR OF ACTIVITY

Federation Speakers on Program for First Meeting

The Woman's club held its opening meeting of the year 1929-30 Monday afternoon at the Presbyterian church. The change in location was made because of the fact that the repairs and improvements to the clubhouse were not quite complete.

The new president, Mrs. W. M. Warren, presided, welcoming the members. Mrs. Warren outlined the program for the year, calling attention to the talent that has been secured by the program committee. She also spoke of the remodeling of the clubhouse, which will be ready for use by the next regular meeting on the 28th.

The musical numbers on the program were given by a former resident of Covina, Mrs. Dorothy Dukes Nielson, whose voice has made her a favorite in the musical circles of her home town, as well as in various parts of southern California. Mrs. Nielson was accompanied by Mrs. Winifred Johnson of Upland. Her opening group was "War" (Rogers), "Will o' the Wisp" (Spross), and "Little Silver Ring" (Chaminade). Again, at the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Nielson sang two charming folk songs.

Mrs. Bernice Johnson, a federation speaker from Los Angeles, was accompanied by Alma Whitaker Reynolds to the delight of that lady's friends.

Questions which were asked in a good-natured rebuttal by Mrs. Reynolds.

Tea and wafers were served in the alcove, with Mrs. C. E. Bristow and Mrs. F. I. Nagle presiding, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Hunter and Mrs. E. L. Varney.

Baskets of beautiful wall flowers were used in decorations.

P-T. A. Union to Hold Meeting at Lark Ellen School

Covina union Parent-Teacher council will hold its first open meeting of the year on Tuesday, October 22, at the Lark Ellen school at 9:45 o'clock. Mrs. De Forest Reichard, council president, will preside and introduce the speakers.

Six hundred women are council members this year, and large delegations are expected from Baldwin Park, West Covina, Lark Ellen, Covina, and La Verne.

A luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock by the Lark Ellen association. The principals of the schools represented are to be luncheon guests.

The morning session will be given over to presidents' reports. The presidents of Azusa, Puente council and La Verne Heights association will also be present and will speak briefly of their activities.

Principal Ben S. Millikan will welcome the visitors following the luncheon. The afternoon program includes three talented speakers: Mrs. H. C. Baldwin, first district president; Mrs. Chas. E. Johnson, chairman of parental education; Mrs. S. B. Morris, chairman of recreation. Mrs. F. I. Nagle, local program chairman, will also present a musical program.

Everyone interested in parent-teacher work is invited to attend. Luncheon reservations may be made by phoning the president of any association in the council. These ladies are: Mrs. S. D. Wallis, Baldwin Park; Mrs. F. P. Wilson, West Covina; Mrs. A. W. Feist, Lark Ellen; Mrs. Rudolph Fisher, La Verne; Mrs. S. M. Fisher, Covina.

Covina Men's Club Will Honor Edison at Program Tonight

In connection with the golden jubilee, held all over the United States and in many portions of the world, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the electric light, Bishop William M. Bell, one of the powerful speakers in church circles in southern California, will deliver an address at the meeting of the Covina Men's club tonight in the Woman's clubhouse. The music will be "Southern Song" by two young Los Angeles boys, "Ebbel & Bouton," accompanied with violin obbligato by Edith York.

Safe Flood Control

That's the San Gabriel Canyon Objective. Not a Big Dam Unless It Will Be Safe — This Is No Time for Hysteria

BUILDING of a big dam in the San Gabriel canyon has always been contingent upon finding suitable bedrock. No dam of any kind has ever been promised, excepting upon this basis. Without bedrock and suitable side-wall rock, no dam can be built. That is what the engineers have all said from the first; that is what the Argus has always maintained.

It is possible, as shown by the report of engineers and geologists published in this issue of the Argus, that the big dam will be abandoned, and that sites for several dams may be selected, if they can be found, upon which to build a series of smaller dams. Flood control and water conservation will be accomplished in the San Gabriel canyon, and it should not be of concern to the public whether it is accomplished thru several dams or one dam, providing it is done in the safest and most efficient manner. Bear in mind that while a big dam may be abandoned, flood control will not be abandoned. It is flood control and water conservation that the people want, and for which they are paying, and not big dams.

It is of no avail to rage about the abandonment of a project if that project is infeasible and unsafe. In the meantime, the Argus repeats the admonition that was made in an editorial last week—that this is a question for engineers and geologists, and if they cannot help us, certainly we cannot help ourselves. We must have confidence in the men employed, especially because of the fact that the best men obtainable have and will be secured.

The state engineer, who now has complete and final supervision over all dam construction, is to be called in at once, and with the best geologists obtainable will inspect the damsite. What he has to say should be final and acceptable. Meanwhile, let us all remember that every effort possible is being made to give a full measure of flood control and water conservation eventually, and that despite difficult obstacles, the people will triumph in the end.

Covina Football Team Win in Two Contests

Report that Covina had won two games in one afternoon was almost a shock to local football fans as word was flashed about last Friday evening that Coach Gorrell's varsity squad had beaten San Diego Army and Navy Academy at San Diego, and that Coach Penleton's lightweight team had scored a victory over El Monte on the home grounds.

The few fans who drove to San Diego said the local boys looked better than they had before this season. San Diego had almost the same team that played in Covina last year and it was expected that the local boys would have a hard battle, but a personal of the play-by-play report will reveal that they had things well in hand at all times, winning 32-0.

The victory over El Monte was also somewhat unexpected, as it is said this is the first time Covina has ever scored a lightweight decision over El Monte. The local boys played a classy game, running good interference, making effective tackles, and passing. "Doug" Fischer and "Happy" Rauschenbach starred for Covina at quarterback and fullback. The final score was 18-6.

The following report of the San Diego game was prepared for the high school paper, the Cardinal and White:

At first things looked bad for the visiting team, but before long the superior playing of Coach Ted Gorrell's men put them out of danger. In the first quarter Covina won the toss and elected to receive. San Diego made a good kick down to the 20-yard line, and Covina was stopped on the 32-yard line. On the next play Covina was penalized 15 yards for holding. Chapin gained back some of the yardage by packing the ball down to the 35. (Continued on page 9)

Valley Prepares to Fight Pasadena's Water Claims

With more than two hundred directors of irrigating companies, members of city boards and other organizations present at a meeting of the San Gabriel Valley Protective association, held Wednesday at Whittier, the meeting authorized a continuance of the preparations to divert water from the San Gabriel canyon, and will carry on a determined fight to prevent any allocation of water outside of the San Gabriel valley basin.

Extensive reports, covering the entire situation to date, were read by the association's legal representatives, Attorney Walter Haas Vincent Morgan, and by Engineer Jones of Claremont. The experts declared that the association was in a strategic position to defend its water properly. Over $6000 per month is available with which to carry on the fight, as every acre, including city property, within the basin from the mountains to and including Long Beach, is being assessed.

The association, also not meeting for this purpose, took occasion to pass a resolution urging that the state engineer provide a board of experts to examine the condition of the side walls at the San Gabriel dam, to serve as an outside investigation to that which has already been conducted by the district itself. It was pointed out that the state engineer has full authority under a new state law to pass or to condemn sites for dams and methods of construction. The meeting was presided over by C. A. Griffith of Azusa, chairman of the executive committee, and members were present from the Covina Irrigating company and the Covina city council.

A similar resolution concerning the calling in of the state engineer was passed by the board of directors of the associated chambers of commerce of the San Gabriel valley on Wednesday afternoon.

WOMAN NEAR DEATH FROM GAS FUMES

Two Arabian Horses Victims of Orchard Fumigation

Mrs. Jack Sturm, residing on Double avenue, was overcome by fumigating gas last Friday evening, while attempting to render aid in the resuscitation of a horse that had fallen a victim to the poisonous gas.

The fumigating crew of the Covina Citrus association was at work on the ranch when the gas seemed to have collected near the barn. The man who generated the gas was the first to collapse but was revived by two co-workers. A horse belonging to the outfit fell against the corral. It was at this juncture that Mrs. Sturm went to the barn with a flashlight to assist.

Mrs. Sturm became anxious about a valuable Arabian horse and colt inside the barn and went to investigate, finding both animals dead. She then collapsed, and to the quick action of Mr. Sturm, who followed his wife to the barn, is due the saving of her life. She was carried by her husband, with the assistance of her aunt, Mrs. Mattie Overholzer, who lives next door, out of the danger zone and restoratives administered. The accident occurred about eight o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. Sturm has been recuperating this week at the home of her parents in Gardena. The horses which were killed were of the Kellogg Arabian strain. Mr. Sturm being employed at the Kellogg ranch.

Police Find Car Stolen During Hills Holdup

The Packard "straight-eight" car, stolen by unknown bandits who robbed L. A. Palme, young taxi driver, and tied him to a tree in the Covina hills last week Tuesday, was recovered on King street in Los Angeles a few days later by the Los Angeles police.

Detectives kept a watch on the car for two days, in the expectation that the man and woman who had stolen it would return, but it had evidently been abandoned by them. It had been driven only about 100 miles after the holdup.

The peculiar manner in which this hold-up was planned, as told in last week's Argus, has led police to believe that it was the work of dope addicts, or dope runners. The scene of the hold-up and the place where La Palme was tied to a tree with picture cord, is only about a mile from the state narcotic hospital. A similar hold-up, using practically the same methods, occurred a few days before this one in the Monrovia area.

Whittier Freshmen Coming to Encounter Covina Colts Today

The football game today will be Covina vs. Whittier frosh, and will be played on the Covina field at 3:30. Coach Gorrell's men, pepped up over two previous victories, will go up against a number of former teammates who are now playing with Whittier—Bill Duncan, Bill Bonner, Ellison Bonner, Herschel Daugherty, and Byron Netzley. In addition to these Covina players, Coach Landreth has a number of his former Huntington Park stars on the squad.

The college boys are big and strong and have had a number of years' experience, so it will certainly be a hard game for Covina.

Rev. Hause to Be New Rector for Episcopal Church

Rev. Bertrand Hause, for several years assistant rector of St. James Episcopal church of Los Angeles, in the Wilshire district, has been chosen as the new rector for Holy Trinity Episcopal church of Covina, according to an announcement this week by members of the local vestry board.

Rev. Hause takes the place of Rev. M. L. Kain, who has accepted the position of rector of All Saints Episcopal church in San Diego. The new minister will not take his position for at least two weeks more, it was said, but has been in Covina this week making preliminary arrangements, and meeting a number of the church officials. Rev. Hause is one of the youngest rectors in the diocese, being thirty years old, and is married.

Rev. Kain goes to a much larger congregation than the one at Holy Trinity. The report filed on Tuesday of this week with the board is as follows:

The excavation of 385,000 cubic yards on the west abutment alone has failed to reveal any satisfactory rock, with the exception of a few exposures for the lower 40 feet of the proposed dam, and some indications that fair rock might be reached on the upper 50 feet of the dam.

With the amount of excavation removed the presence of many large seams in several different directions, two feet or more in width, and particularly a broad zone of badly weathered rock about 50 feet to 150 feet in width, and the slipping of large masses indicating a poor rock condition has led to a cessation of excavation on the west abutment; an intensive program of exploration; and the appointment by the board of supervisors of a board of consulting engineers and geologists to make a detailed study and report.

This board, consisting of L. C. Hill and A. J. Wiley, consulting engineers, and Robt. T. Hill and C. F. Tolman, consulting geologists, each spent about a week individually and separately in studies of the physical characteristics and the test pits and in addition spent five days concurrently in joint study, living continuously during this period on the work.

They have jointly submitted their report and conclusions as of October 14, 1929, to be followed by a more lengthy technical report with the supporting data as soon as this can be gotten into shape.

REPORT FINDINGS

384,900 cubic yards from west abutment and 304,770 cubic yards on east abutment, or a total of nearly 690,000 cubic yards total. The specifications call for 675,000 cubic yards of abutment excavation.

Foundation rock is a dense diorite-gneiss cut by dykes of white alkali and brown to black diabase and service.

Sherman Chosen Head of Covina American Legion

Frank H. Sherman, manager of the Covina Valley Fumigating company, was elected commander of the American Legion of Covina, at the regular meeting held Monday night of this week at Longworth's Stone Lantern cafe.

Sherman had been for some time slated to succeed Charles R. Zug as commander, following the declaration by Commander Zug that he would not accept another term. He was chosen as the logical leader to put over the building program of the post during the coming year, when a new clubhouse will be built on property owned by the post just back of the swimming plunge at the Covina city park. The post went on record immediately after his election as urging that preliminary work be begun at once on this project.

Others elected were: first vice-commander, Milton Burnett; second vice-commander, "Bud" Wright;

SAN GABRIEL DAMSITE DECLARED UNSAFE BY GEOLOGICAL EXPERTS

Report of Engineers, Scientists Unfavorable to Further Work on Great Structure—Several Small Dams Proposed

Declaring that, in their opinion, a safe dam cannot be built in the San Gabriel canyon at the site where excavations and side-wall operations have been in progress, special engineers and geologists have filed a report with the Los Angeles county board of supervisors, thru Chief Engineer E. C. Eaton of the Los Angeles county flood control district.

Suitable bedrock in which to tie the dam on the west side of the canyon has not been found, and there are no good indications that it can be found, the report declares. The east abutment is better, but not any too good, the report says. Recommendations in the report are to the effect that smaller dams, several in number, be built in various canyons that are lateral to the main canyon, and perhaps a low dam in the main canyon, contingent also upon finding suitable anchorage.

The report, issued by Chief Engineer Eaton, was prepared by him in collaboration with Engineers L. C. Hill and A. J. Wiley, and Geologists Robert T. Hill and C. F. Tolman, who have been spending much time at the damsite since a slip of earth and rock occurred that stopped work on the west abutment.

The board of supervisors accepted the report, and will reveal what procedure shall be taken later. Meanwhile, State Engineer Hyatt, who has supervision of all dams built within the state, is to be called in, and it is proposed that engineers and geologists who have never figured in any way hitherto in connection with the dam, be secured by the board of supervisors.

The report filed on Tuesday of this week with the board is as follows:

The excavation of 385,000 cubic yards on the west abutment alone has failed to reveal any satisfactory rock, with the exception of a few exposures for the lower 40 feet of the proposed dam, and some indications that fair rock might be reached on the upper 50 feet of the dam.

Last Rites Held for Judge Briggs, Valley Pioneer

Death occurred Thursday, October 10, of Justice of the Peace Briggs of West Riverside township, formerly a rancher and business man in the Lower Azusa district. He was 73 years old, and had been suffering from a disorder for several months, submitting to an operation at last that was unavailing.

Justice Briggs was born in the town of Azusa, and was declared to be recovering, but suffered a relapse. The funeral was held last Saturday in Azusa, and burial was made beside the body of his wife in Oakdale cemetery.

For the past nine years Judge Briggs had been justice of West Riverside township, and had endeavored himself to many hundreds because of his kindly and impartial conduct in office. He held court in his own home, and the residence became the mecca for many couples seeking to be joined in marriage.

Mr. Briggs' wife, Ida M. Briggs, died fifteen months ago. Another great sorrow that came to him was that of the death of a son, Claude W. Briggs, who lost his life on the western front during the world war. The body was brot to Covina several years after the war, and was given a military funeral, with burial in Oakdale cemetery. Two other sons survive him, Raymond H. Briggs of Long Beach, and Charles Briggs of Azusa.

The committee on entertainment, assisted by several other members, presented a pantomime skit, "The Light Went Out."

At the business meeting the names of four new members were proposed. The sum of $20 was voted to purchase a baby bed for the new sanitarium to be built by the Ruth Protective Home, and the announcement was made that individual members could make contributions to the fund thru Miss Marie Morter at the First National bank.

Pumpkin pie, cheese and coffee were served, as well as nuts, candy and cider. Mrs. Stella Brown, chairman, was assisted by Miss Marion Mountain, Miss Ethel McNeley, Miss Hilda Noid, Mrs. Hattie Wine, and Miss Ruth Laws.

Lloyd George once said: "No country ever long lived when its cities and towns grew and its country faded."

Nature is the author of that book over which spring pours, summer smiles, while autumn turns the leaves, and winter catches the drift of it all.

When Nero set fire to Rome he burned the only thing history records as having been developed during his reign—ice houses.

Fasten short pieces of rubber, cut from old auto tires, over the axles of your wagons and these will keep the sand and grit out and make for better lubrication and longer life.

"I can't help you," said the doctor to the incoming patient. "I am a veterinary surgeon."

"You're just the man I want, because I was a jackass to try to climb that telephone pole with my car."

Where Are You in the Parade?

Many merchants are heading the parade—riding with the elephants. But the great majority wind up the procession with the steam calliope—making a lot of noise but always trailing the field.

The former are the big leaguers. The latter are not merchants at all, and their motions are wasted.

Ranchers are like that, too. Some see ahead and plan ahead. They are the live ones. Others are content with old methods, old, wornout machinery, old, wornout traditions. They're the ones that are standing still or slipping fast.

The ideal combination is the progressive rancher and live dealer backed by a reliable manufacturer. What a team that is!

If you are not a member of such a team . . . better come in and hitch up. You will like our merchandise, you will like our service, and we hope you will like us.

Valley Citizens Attend Reception at Opening of Hospital Annex

An appreciative community responded to the invitation of the Covina hospital to inspect its new unit Thursday afternoon and evening. During the morning many baskets of flowers were received from business houses, civic organizations and former patients, filling the offices and corridors with magnificent fall blooms.

Open house was held from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 7 to 9 in the evening. During the evening hours Irvan Fiebelkorn of Monrovia entertained with several tenor solos. He was accompanied by Mrs. Frances Potts, also of Monrovia. Mr. Fiebelkorn has been a successful contestant in the Atwater-Kent auditions.

The Misses Mary and Melisse Wittler and Lavina Graham, owners and proprietors of the hospital, were assisted as hostesses by the wives of the physicians of the community, including women from Covina, Baldwin Park, Azusa, and Glendora. Mrs. W. P. Magan and Mrs. G. D. Jennings alternated at the tea tables. Mrs. Irvan Reynolds was chairman of a group of women from the Woman's club who located the flowers and assisted at the punch tables. Misses S. S. Magan, Weegar, Pielemeier, Cline and White served punch in the afternoon. Mrs. D. D. Bronson, Miss Hazel Bristow, Miss Victoria Reynolds and Mrs. E. H. Walters presided at the punch bowl in the evening. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Schiebel of Monrovia and Mrs. Harding of Los Angeles, friends of the Misses Wittler and Graham. A group of Girl Reserves conducted the guests thru the new unit both afternoon and evening.

It would be difficult to find a more complete equipment than in the Covina hospital, or more cheerful, restful surroundings. From the upper rooms, views of the mountains may be obtained, while the windows of the lower floor look out upon green lawns and trees. The plans for the annex have included on each floor flower rooms, diet kitchens and utility rooms, as well as store rooms and closets. Two nurses' stations, one above and one below, as well as the station in the original building, make it possible to give prompt service at all hours.

The lower floor also contains four private rooms, two wards and one two-bed room, and the second floor nine private rooms and three two-bed rooms. Forty-five patients can be cared for very easily, while on emergency, with the perfect system of ventilation, sixty or sixty-five beds could be placed.

Changes have been made in the principal building as well, converting the upper story into quarters for the nurses and house help. The kitchen suite is to be remodeled at once, using the present family dining room for the service room and converting a bedroom into a nurses' breakfast room. There will be other changes as soon as these rooms can be vacated by moving the patients into the annex.

A model elevator and a fully equipped furnace completes the improvements.

A reception was tendered Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Lewis at the Methodist Episcopal church on Tuesday evening.

This was followed by words of welcome from Mr. Harry Gordon on behalf of the church. Rev. Mr. Lewis responded in a very happy manner to the gracious welcome extended him.

A program of music was rendered by Miss Lucy Wheeler in organ numbers, Miss Elin Anderson and Mrs. Tom Foster vocal solos, with Miss Dorothy Blanchard and Miss Wheeler accompanying. A social hour in the church parlors, where refreshments were served, closed the evening.

Edison's Inventions Subject of Talk

Rev. M. L. Kain was the speaker in the weekly assembly at the Covina high school on Wednesday, October 9. He was introduced by Gilbert Stuckey, acting as commissioner of programs during the absence of an elected officer. Rev. Kain spoke on Thomas Edison and his invention of the incandescent lamp, as the twenty-first of this month starts the celebration of the golden anniversary of the invention of electric lights by Mr. Edison.

Rev. Kain gave many experiences of his own associated with the inventions of Thomas Edison. He also told of interesting happenings during the early experiments with such inventions as the graphophone and the incandescent lamp.

Success of Drive Balks Pest Study

The Mediterranean fruit fly has been so nearly exterminated in Florida that practically no flies can be found with which to experiment, the chief of the plant quarantine and control administration, Dr. C. L. Marlatt, said this week in announcing that intensive studies of the fly will be transferred to Hawaii. The fly, once so prevalent in Florida, now is being bred in laboratories by the department of agriculture, Dr. Marlatt said, but this method is unsatisfactory.

The entomologist, whom the department is sending to Hawaii, Dr. Marlatt announced, will study the biological effects of heat and cold sterilization. He will try to determine how hot or cold the fruit must be to kill all the flies.

New Currency at First National Bank

Last week the local First National bank received its first allotment of the new-sized currency.

The bureau of engraving and printing in Washington has caught up somewhat with the demand for the new United States currency and federal reserve notes and has recently become actively engaged in getting out some national bank currency in the general program for the reduction in size of currency.

The backs of the new bills are identical with the backs of the corresponding denominations of all other kinds of currency. The same portraits also appear on these new bills for the First National as are used on corresponding denominations of the United States currency and the federal reserve notes.

It is interesting to note that the bureau of engraving and printing is imprinting the facsimile signatures of Mr. Leonard and Mr. Coles on these notes.

Sound Apparatus Now Perfect at Glendora House

Perfection of the sound equipment in the Glendora theater has been reached, after days and nights of study and work by expert acoustical and electrical engineers, it was declared by E. L. Franck, proprietor of the house.

"Mission theater has gone thru the adjustment period incidental to the installation of sound equipment, which without exception has been experienced by all theaters," Manager Franck said.

Considerable trouble was encountered at the start with the confusing echo which made it difficult to understand in many parts of the house. This was entirely unforeseen, since spoken drama and vaudeville had been presented in the past with excellent results. It was that that by draping the plate glass in the rear of the auditorium, the sound would be perfect. However, such was not the case, and experts on acoustics, called in for consultation, found there was a three-second echo in the body of the house, due to the fact that amplified sound travels with four and one-half times the velocity of the spoken word, Manager Franck explained.

Five hundred yards of drapery were hung on the walls and ceiling of the auditorium, the front of the booth and balcony, the stage was insulated and heavy felt and a special sound screen was installed. The latter reflects 85 per cent of the light from the projection machine, it was declared, and still allows 94 per cent of the sound to pass thru from the speakers to the auditorium.

This arrangement corrected the acoustics, but it was found that there was still distortion in certain voices which were recorded in very high and low pitches. The source of this trouble was puzzling in the extreme, and it was only after nights and days of testing and eliminating one element after another that the cause of distortion was discovered in the rheostat used to control volume. On installation of a new rheostat the trouble was immediately cleared up, and the Mission theater now has the class of sound expected in the beginning from the excellent type of equipment installed.

Stories of deaf persons having their hearing restored by taking airplane rides are ridiculed by Dr. L. H. Bauer, of the department of commerce. Instead, flying is likely to make deafness even worse by contracting the eardrums. In very rare cases, said Doctor Bauer, there are instances of hysterical deafness caused by some emotional strain, and in such a case a breath-taking dive in an airplane, or some other equal thrill, might restore lost hearing.

Infra-red rays, the invisible light with which the camera peers into dense fog, has been used to bring to view tiny, living objects that the microscope has been unable to disclose.

State Authorities to Enforce New Headlight Law

Sacramento, Oct. 12—Beginning Tuesday, October 15, the state authorities will invoke the power invested in them by the new motor vehicle act to arrest all motorists driving with glaring or dazzling headlights.

This announcement was made jointly here today by Frank G. Snook, chief of the division of motor vehicles, and Eugene W. Biscailuz, superintendent of the California highway patrol. Biscailuz said traffic officers would be given orders to make the arrests and to cite the offenders to appear in court in conformity with provisions of the law.

The patrol is now conducting a fifteen-day educational campaign in cooperation with the California committee on public safety to acquaint drivers with the danger of using glaring lights and with the methods for having them adjusted to comply with the law. During this period, drivers are merely being warned. The more drastic order to arrest them is another step in a campaign that will cover a number of phases of law enforcement.

Both officials advised motorists to avoid arrest by going to the nearest official headlight adjusting station and having their lights adjusted.

It is comparatively easy, they said, for the motorist to determine if his lights are out of order by walking a distance of about 150 feet in front of the car on a level road and inspecting them. If they look bright or glaring the motorist may be sure they need adjustment.

Operators With Old Licenses Facing Arrest

Sacramento, Oct. 12—Orders were issued here today to all members of the California highway patrol by Superintendent Eugene W. Biscailuz to arrest all motorists caught with operators' licenses issued prior to January 1, 1927.

The order conforms to a section of the new law cancelling all licenses issued two years or more.

Motorists without a license issued since January 1, 1927, or who cannot show evidence that they have applied for one will be charged with a misdemeanor. Biscailuz said he did not believe any large number of motorists would be affected by the order. The division believes that at least 85 per cent of all the operators in the state have secured new licenses or have made application for them.

The division has been conducting a campaign since July 11th, last, for the purpose of cleaning up all old licenses.

Applications may be made to the division or any of its branches, to any police department or branch office of the automobile clubs.

What is the best language to use for international communication by telephone? Interesting facts have been revealed as the result of experiments with the various tongues. Italian was the most easily understood, with German, English and French next in the order named.

Detouring Around Politics—

The number of automobile drivers who failed to pass the tests for licenses to operate is negligible. The average person, man or woman, is quite well educated in the operation of a motor vehicle.

But if the same men and women were asked to pass a simple test in the operation of this government, county, state and nation, the result would be very lamentable, indeed. Without preparation, there are very few who could answer readily as to the functions of a representative in the state legislature, in the United States congress, just what is a supervisor of a county, not to mention the question as to the names of the individuals now occupying such offices in their own particular bailiwick. That isn't all, either—these worthy citizens don't seem to care whether they know or not.

Apathy and ignorance of the affairs of government is explained by the optimist as a compliment to those who occupy the responsible offices. There is nothing radically wrong with the government in county, state and nation, the optimist declares, and therefore, why worry about who is in office, and about what he may be doing?

This may be the answer to the steady decline in interest in politics. It is a well known fact that few communities could scare up a corporal's guard to meet a congressman, unless it was a prepared event, accompanied by a dinner and entertainment. Twenty-five years ago no hall was big enough to hold the crowd in any community that would assemble to hear the story of the last session in congress from the lips of the returned representative of the district. Congressmen come home these days, and are not seen or recognized by the general public. Only a few faithful old wheelhorses, who got the habit early in life, seem interested enough to meet him and to inquire after the state of the nation.

California is to be redistricted by the next state legislature. Among other things this redistricting will result in doubling our representation at Washington. And yet with several brand new jobs, paying excellent salaries, to be handed out by the people within a year, there are no takers among the younger element at this time, and altho undoubtedly there will be plenty of aspirants when the time comes, it is nevertheless a fact that the young man or woman who might be eligible for such positions is singularly indifferent in the aggregate.

Any discussion of politics in any group or assembly is about as welcome as the smallpox. We continue to be fairly well represented in all branches of government, but it is because of the interest and vigilance of a very small group, not thru anything but the most passive help from the people in general.

And this small group that remains interested and active is looked upon by the rest of the people with a certain amount of aversion, and are dubbed "political bosses" and "political jobholders." It does not speak very well for an actual "government by the people." As long as the general public looks upon politics as something to sneer at, and to ignore, the government will be run by a few, and there is no way to correct this fact.

November Eleven—

Several Covina organizations, including business men and business women, have sent resolutions to the county council of the American Legion, urging that all business in the county cease on Armistice day. Covina has observed this great day as a holiday for several years.

But Armistice day has not been made a legal holiday in the state, as yet, and the governor has said that such action will not be advocated until it can be shown that the people are very generally in favor of it. Some of the biggest business houses in Los Angeles continue to stay open, and even to make this day the occasion of a big sales day.

We have a few holidays that could very well be dropped from our calendar, notably Columbus day, which means nothing to anybody, excepting from the standpoint of an anniversary to be mentioned in the schools. Columbus never set his foot on either North or South America, for that matter, and his name wasn't Columbus.

We need to scrutinize our holidays, and ask if they are wearing well, and if it might not be that there are substitutions that could be made with some meaning and significance. And the day that four millions of our young men were saved from further action in the greatest war of all history might be given careful consideration.

The signing of that armistice saved at least another two million Americans from participation, also. It might be well for all of us to dwell for a few moments on this fact, and join with patriotic organizations in bringing about the legal recognition of the eleventh of November.

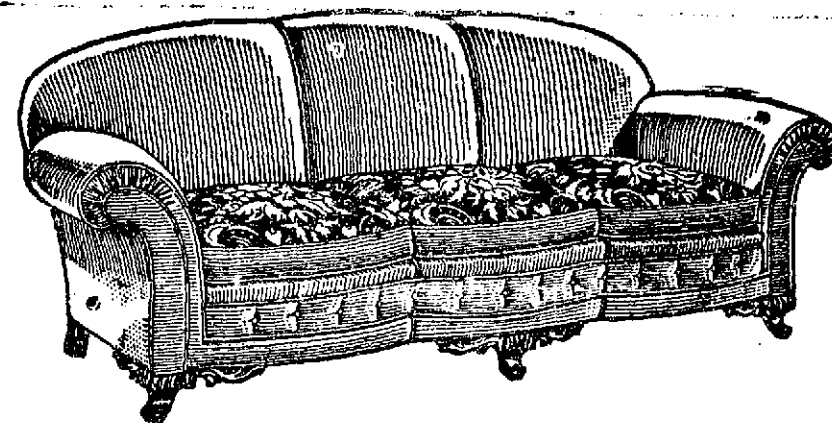

More Automobiles—

Motor vehicle fees collected by the state of California for the first seven months of this year are 13 per cent greater than for the same period last year, according to reports reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California. Receipts so far this year were $9,381,176, a gain of $1,238,139 over the corresponding period last year.

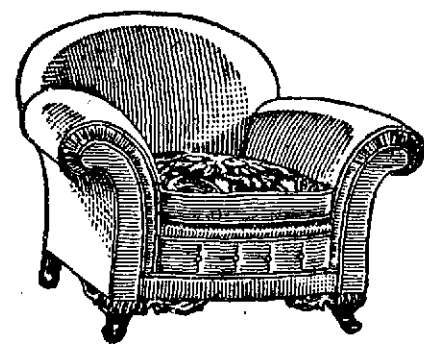

This would indicate that there has been a larger percentage of increase in the number of automobiles in the state than for several years past. Since 1919, or for the past ten years, there has been an increase of 372 per cent in the number of licensed vehicles. The average increase during each year over the previous year was 15.5.

The greatest increase was 26 per cent in 1919 over 1918. The smallest annual increase was five per cent in 1927. The last increase record for a whole year was in 1928, when a gain of seven per cent was shown over the previous year.

From these figures, according to the auto club, it would appear that 1929 will establish a new record for the number of automobiles registered in the state, as well as for number of miles driven and amount of gasoline used. It is expected that California's record this year will be near the top in the country for the number of new automobiles purchased during the year.

NOT A DOLLAR FOR REPAIRS
NOT A DOLLAR FOR SERVICE that is the AMAZING EXPERIENCE
of the owners of this refrigerator

NO wonder the owner of a General Electric feels a glow of pride when he says, quietly, "Yes, we have a General Electric." For, which electric refrigerator can match his in efficiency, in quietness, in stamina, in trouble-free service?

The record of more than 350,000 in use with no owner having spent a dollar for repairs or service is one which truly challenges comparison.

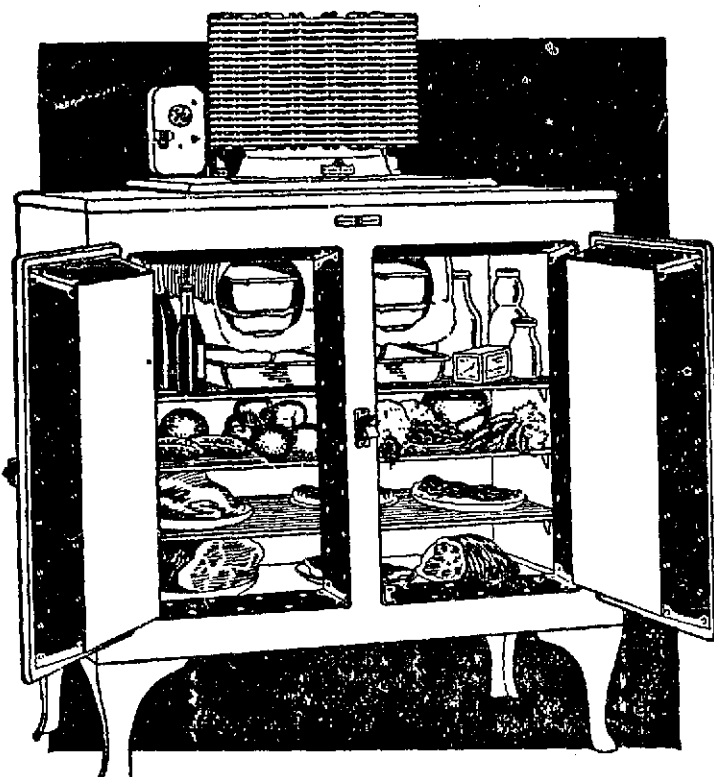

The mechanism of the General Electric is so simple... it never needs oiling... it is hermetically sealed in a steel casing which keeps it forever dust-proof. It creates no radio interference. It has an accessible freezing regulator. It makes plenty of ice.

The cabinets are all-steel. They cannot warp. They are particularly easy to clean. Sturdiest hardware is bolted right into the steel frame. Self-closing door latch, gliders to protect your linoleums... And, of course, it automatically maintains a temperature several degrees below 50—the figure which medical authorities agree is the danger point in food preservation. Come in today and ask about our conveniently spaced payment plan.

FRUIT FLY BRINGS BLESSINGS AS WELL AS DEVASTATION

That the Mediterranean fly in Florida is a curse with some blessings on the side, is intimated in a letter received this week by E. J. Summerhays of the National Orchard Heater company of Covina, from his brother, written at Haines City, Florida. Parts of the letter are as follows:

Palmer has taken me thru the plant at Orlando where the experiment work is being done. One of the leading men there took us around and told us some things about what they knew about the fruit fly. No adult flies have been found in traps since August 7th, and no larvae since August 27th. They have thousands of traps out in every section where the fly has been found. The trap does not catch all the flies near it, and apparently a trap only gets flies in the tree in which it is set. They have never caught over 82 flies in one trap, and have caught over 600 flies in one tree by fumigating. Until the next ripe fruit is on the trees, they do not expect to find flies. However, the work is going on steadily.

I went thru a special new building almost ready for carrying on experiment work, which will be carried on for years. This building is interesting. It has a special vermin-proof foundation and floor, ants cannot get to the walls, they have a series of eight rooms, only one opening in the building.

Each room has plate glass windows, with both outside screen and outside window protecting screen. Connected with this building by an underground passage is a concrete underground vault, where the flies can be carried in case of hurricane. Every precaution is taken to avoid the possibility of one fly getting away from them.

Every person passes thru two rooms after changing his clothes on entering and leaving the building. In this building, they will carry on experiments for years, and learn which fruits and plants the fly can live and breed in. The papaya is found to be the best plant to get eggs in. They work fast in them.

Adult flies that cannot lay eggs can live ten months. They have a number of them there. I got a close look at them. No other flies are like them exactly, tho many resemble them. Many hundreds of people have brot in samples in this and many other states, but very few fruit flies. The Mediterranean fly has been found in no state but Flor-

Early Days in Covina

TEN YEARS AGO

R. M. Bowman, city marshal, tendered his resignation Tuesday evening to the city trustees, to take effect November 1st.

Mrs. E. L. Reynolds of La Verne, formerly of Covina, has recently purchased the ten-acre ranch of Mrs. Alice Leisner. This adjoins the Reynolds ranch and gives 27 acres in her home place, on the mesa above San Dimas canyon.

Governor Stephens has declared November 11, 1919, a legal holiday, it being the anniversary of the signing of the armistice.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Colver entertained last Saturday afternoon with a shower for Miss Gladys Coons, whose marriage to Seth Colver is to be an event of the near future.

Miss Della Daugherty and Mr. Percy G. Dunn were quietly married in San Diego last Friday. Mr. Dunn is connected with the citrus packing industry.

The Lyric club held the opening business meeting of the year at the home of the president, Mrs. Wm. E. Thorne, on Second street. Rehearsals will begin next week, under Clifford Lott of Los Angeles, and a concert will be staged soon.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Contract for the erection of the new clubhouse for the Monday Afternoon club has been awarded to S. L. Pillar of Riverside. The building is to be completed by January. It will be a wood and brick structure covering a floor space of 60x120 feet and will be an ornament to the city.

The farewell reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Peck of the Methodist church was well attended. Rev. Utter of the Christian church gave a talk in regard to his relations with Rev. Peck. A program was given and refreshments served.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and son, Edgar, who left three weeks ago for Modesto, returned Tuesday, satisfied to make Covina their home.

Saturday evening, Oct. 22, the Rebekahs will give a play at Coolman's hall.

Messrs. J. O. Houser, H. M. Houser, J. D. Reed, C. E. Crawford, Frank Houser and George Swartz made a business trip to Corona Tuesday in the former's auto.

Citrus fruit shipments to October 3rd amounted to the grand total of 27,748 carloads; same date last year, 22,119; 1902, 17,173; 1901, 23,850.

Board Gets Bids on Big Tujunga Dam

Big Tujunga dam, which will protect the San Fernando valley from floods in Big Tujunga wash, will cost $200,000 less than the engineer's estimate, if the low bid received by the board of supervisors is accepted.

This bid is from Edwards, Wilkey & Dixon, and the figure is $717,245. The second bid, $735,944, was submitted by R. A. Watson, the third, $738,555, by Guy Atkinson, and the fourth, $757,000, by Walter Ward.

The dam will be of the varying radius arch type, will be 250 feet high, and impound 7500 acre feet of water. This dam is part of the $40,000,000 flood control system by which the Los Angeles basin ultimately will be protected from flood damage, and a great quantity of water conserved for pumping from underground basins.

Way Straight as Its Name Urged

AZUSA, Oct. 14.—Petitions demanding a straight right of way for the connecting link of the Arrow highway beginning at the San Gabriel wash and extending to Bonnie Cove, a distance of approximately three and a half miles on Bonita avenue, were filed this morning with the county board of supervisors. The petitions were said to be signed by 90 per cent of the property owners who are protesting the turn in the road at Bonnie Cove.

As the highway, when completed, will be one of the main arteries from the east to Los Angeles, property owners contend that the road should be made as straight and safe as the name, arrow, implies.

As surveys for the straight road, as originally decided upon by the supervisors, have been completed several months, property owners are protesting the sudden change in plans.

Newman's Team at Pomona Tomorrow

Covina football fans who are taking an active interest in the fortunes of Coach Newman's Whittier college team are planning to drive over to Claremont tomorrow afternoon to witness the Pomona-Whittier southern California conference contest. Newman has won his first conference game with San Diego state, and also beat California Christian college last Saturday.

Pomona is one of the strong teams of the conference and is doped to walk all over Newman's men, but local fans are predicting that the latter will put up a strong fight.

yard line. On the next play Covina gained nothing. Then Chapin kicked down to San Diego's 45-yard line. On the next play San Diego was penalized 5 yards for offside. They gained 3 yards on the next play. They tried to pass but Covina blocked the ball, so San Diego had to kick. They kicked down to the Covina 45-yard line. On the next four downs Covina endeavored to pass and run in order to make their downs, but they did not succeed, so they had to kick. Chapin made a beautiful kick to the 20-yard line but San Diego ran it down to the 40-yard line. Wood, of San Diego, ran the ball ten yards on the next play, making their downs. San Diego tried a reverse play, but gained only about 2 yards. After several more plays in which they gained very little, San Diego kicked down to Covina's 20-yard line. On the next Chapin packed the ball down to the 40-yard line, making a first down for the Colts. At this point in the game San Diego took time out. Williams and Chapin did some beautiful line bucking and succeeded in making downs for Covina again. On an end run Chapin gained 20 yards, making downs. In three plays Chapin carried the ball to San Diego's 2-yard line. Then the pistol shot off, announcing the end of the first quarter.

Williams bucked the center for the first touchdown. At this point the Covina football fans nearly went wild, because things certainly looked rosy for the Colts. Everett tried to convert but failed, making the score 6-0 in the beginning of the second quarter. Covina took time out.

Chapin kicked off for Covina and booted the ball down to the 20-yard line. Wood, of San Diego, received and carried the ball down to the 25-yard line. Griffin made one of his hard tackles and threw the Army and Navy man for a loss. Captain Rudy intercepted a pass and ran for 3 yards, making it Covina's ball on the 30-yard line. Chapin tried to buck the center in the next two plays but failed to gain. Williams on an end run, put the ball on the 15-yard line, making yards for Covina. Chapin took the ball on the next play but failed to gain. On the next play Williams gained 4 yards. Chapin then put the ball over the line for the second touchdown for the Colts. It looked as if Barry was going to try to convert again, but it was just a fake, and Barry made a beautiful pass to Chapin, who again put it down on the turf back of the goal line, making the score 13-0.

Covina booted the ball down to the 20-yard line on the kick-off, and San Diego brought it back to the 30-yard line. On the next play Covina was penalized 5 yards for offside. San Diego gained 5 yards by an end run. On the next play they tried to buck center, but for no gain. On the next play they made yards. English, of San Diego, tried an end run but was thrown for a loss. On the next play the Army and Navy boys were penalized 10 yards. They gained five yards on the following play. On their fourth down San Diego kicked to the 30-yard line and Chapin received it, bringing it down to the 40-yard line. Chapin made a long end run, making downs for Covina, which was then on the 45-yard line. In the next three plays Chapin and Williams made yards again. Chapin gained 5 yards in the next play, putting the ball on the 15-yard line, and it looked as if the Colts were in position for another touchdown. In the next four plays Covina made yards, putting them on the 2-yard line. However, they were not to get this touchdown, as a loud bang announced the half.

Covina opened up the last half in fine shape by kicking the ball down to the 20-yard line. On receiving it, San Diego ran it for a gain of 10 yards before they were stopped by one of the Colts. San Diego tried a pass but it was intercepted by Chapin, who ran it to the 10-yard line. The next play saw the ball one yard from a touchdown. It took one more play to put the ball over the line for the third touchdown. Everett tried to convert but failed, making the score 19-0.

Covina kicked to the 20-yard line. Wood ran it to the 40-yard line. San Diego fumbled on a reverse play, and the ball was recovered by Allen of Covina, making it Covina's ball on the 35-yard line. The next four plays saw Covina making yards again, putting the old pig-skin on the 13-yard line. On the next play Covina failed to make any gain. Then Williams took the ball for a ride and put it on the goal line, making the fourth touchdown for Covina. Rudy tried to drop kick the ball over the goal but did not succeed, making the score 25-0.

Covina kicked to the 15-yard line and San Diego brought it back 5 yards. San Diego put the ball on the 45-yard line on the next play, making their yards. Then they were penalized 15 yards, putting the ball on the 18-yard line. San Diego gained 3 yards on the next play, and 7 yards on an end run, which put the ball on the 28-yard line. San Diego kicked out of danger to the 35-yard line, and Covina ran it back to the 46-yard line. Covina was then penalized 15 yards, so Chapin kicked to the 35-yard line. English, of San Diego, ran it back to the 4-yard line. Covina took time out. On the next play they fumbled but recovered. However, it caused them a loss of about 3 yards. San Diego again fumbled, and Rudy of Covina recovered. Williams and Chapin between them made yards for Covina in the next three plays. Chapin then passed a beautiful one to Shively, who put the ball on the 2-yard line, and also made yards. Chapin then took the ball for the fifth touchdown for Covina. Chapin passed to Shively, who took it over the line, making the score 32-0.

Covina kicked the ball down to the 35-yard line, and the pistol shot off, making just one quarter left to this very hectic and exciting game.

San Diego fumbled on a reverse, but recovered for a gain of 3 yards. San Diego got desperate and tried a pass but it was incomplete. Then they kicked to the 21-yard line. In the next three plays Covina made downs. Covina was penalized 10 yards, which put the ball on the 47-yard line. Chapin tried a pass but was not successful, so he kicked down to the 15-yard line. San Diego fumbled twice in succession, losing about 9 yards. They then kicked the ball to the 40-yard line and the ball was taken out of bounds by Chapin. Covina then bucked the center for 9 yards. Then Williams packed the ball for another 7 yards, making downs for the Colts. Covina then made an end run for 3 yards, putting the ball on the 20-yard line. In the next three plays Covina failed to make their yards, so it was on San Diego's 15-yard line. Covina took time out. San Diego failed to make any gain on the next play. San Diego then kicked out of danger. Vincent carried the ball for a gain of 9 yards. Covina made downs on the next play. Vincent fumbled and San Diego recovered on the 22-yard line. On a fake reverse San Diego was thrown for a loss of 4 yards, and kicked to the 50-yard line. Covina recovered and so ended one of the best games the Covina Colts have played this season.

Clarence Lanphear was hurt during the first quarter, but not badly enough to stop. However, his leg began hurting him, so that he had to be taken out of the game. It was too bad that he was hurt, because he has been playing such a fine game at half. It is hoped that his injuries are not so severe that they will knock him out of football for the rest of the season.

P.-T. A. Members in First Fall Session

Tuesday afternoon marked the opening date of the grammar school Parent-Teacher association, with a large number of mothers present. The program was opened by a girls' sextette of the grammar school music department, singing several songs. The new board was then introduced, followed by a short talk by Mr. Chambers, principal, who told of the modern methods of education which have been introduced into the school system this year.

Mrs. De Forest Reichard, president of the council, spoke of the work of the ensuing year for the council, and extended an invitation to the association to attend the open council meeting to be held next Tuesday at the Lark Ellen grammar school.

Tea was served in the hall and the new members of the faculty were introduced.

THOMAS ALVA EDISON

A Tribute

THAT NOTE of optimism which always has characterized the electrical industry of America is due, in no small measure, to the career of Mr. Edison. Here is an industry which was founded on vision, nourished on courage and which now, as ever, looks forward with full confidence toward the future, knowing that Mr. Edison and those others whose lives are dedicated to the work he established will have the ability to meet every obstacle that is encountered. No Golden Jubilee has ever been so permeated with the spirit of youth as that now being celebrated to commemorate the first incandescent lamp. It is no coincidence that the world's most notable progress has occurred during the half century which began on October 21, 1879. . . . R. H. Ballard, President Southern California Edison Co.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
EDISON COMPANY

This machine sold 6,364 Carloads of fruit this year

A single example of how the California Fruit Growers Exchange builds higher returns for its members.

TEN YEARS AGO, anybody who asked for fresh orange juice was considered a "crank." It was too much trouble to make it.

Today fresh orange juice is the national drink. And its popularity is increasing vastly every year. Why? Largely because of a simple electrical device conceived, perfected and marketed by the California Fruit Growers Exchange. This machine, the Sunkist Extractor, is now in use in 54,194 soda fountains, hotels, hospitals, and restaurants throughout America.

This season alone, these Extractors consumed 2,709,700 boxes of Oranges and Lemons . . . based on the very conservative estimate of 10 boxes (37 boxes of oranges and 13 boxes of lemons) a year per machine. (Metropolitan drink stands have used as high as 200 boxes a week!) The American public paid $63,352,786.00 for the 633,527,860 drinks this fruit represents, at 10 cents a drink.

Without the Extractor, this money would have been spent for other beverages. Thus the Extractor has created its own, great new market for citrus fruits. And growers profit accordingly.

The sensational success of the commercial Extractor prompted the Exchange to develop "Sunkist Junior," the new electrical juice extractor for home use. This sturdy, convenient and economical machine has now been on the market scarcely 18 months. Yet it is already in use in over 44,000 homes. And tests indicate that the presence of Sunkist Junior in any home materially increases that family's consumption of Oranges!

The possibilities of the Junior Extractor are even greater than those of its successful "big brother!"

Both of these Extractors are Exchange developments from start to finish, conceived to further the prosperity of Exchange growers, by expanding the market for citrus fruits. They form but one example of the aggressive, efficient and profit-yielding service that Exchange growers are getting every day in the year.

This is the kind of alert, intelligent marketing skill that brings Exchange growers the highest returns for their fruit . . . as comparative figures prove year after year. And this is the efficiency that enables the Exchange to give all its services to members at less than the marketing cost alone of any other citrus organization.

For further information about the Exchange, talk to your nearest District Exchange or Exchange Association manager. Or address Growers Service Bureau, California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C," Los Angeles.

What the Exchange is: The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a non-profit organization of 12,000 California citrus fruit growers, producing more than 75% of the California citrus crop, operated by and for them on a cooperative basis. Its object is to develop the national and international market for California Oranges, Lemons and Grapefruit, and to provide a marketing organization that will sell the fruit of its members most advantageously and at least expense. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers. Applications are received through all the Exchange's 207 local packing associations, 23 District Exchanges, or at the central office in Los Angeles.

Richter-Stillman Wedding Held in Pomona Church

A wedding of interest to the many friends of the principals occurred Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock when Mrs. Edna Elizabeth Richter and Grover Leroy Stillman were married at the First Methodist church in Pomona by Rev. Alonzo Reynolds. Only a few intimate friends from Covina and Pomona were present. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ward of Rosemead.

The bride wore a suit of midnight blue chiffon velvet, carrying an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and maid-enhair fern, while Mrs. Ward wore a suit of autumn brown satin and carried yellow rosebuds. Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party went to Los Angeles for a wedding dinner, returning to their home afterward, the ranch owned by the groom on Grand avenue, near Cypress.

Mrs. Stillman is a resident of Covina, coming originally from Johnstown, Pennsylvania. Mr. Stillman came here about three years ago from Minnesota, where he attended the University of Minneapolis.

Those from Covina attending the wedding were Mrs. S. S. Aschenbren-ner, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seiber.

Mrs. Aschenbrenner Home From Month's Trip to North States

Mrs. S. S. Aschenbrenner returned Sunday from a trip of almost a month's duration during which she visited her old home town, Salem, Oregon.

Mrs. Aschenbrenner left directly from the fair at Pomona on the 22nd of September, taking passage on one of the new buses that run to San Francisco. From there Mrs. Aschenbrenner took the regular Pickwick stage to Salem, where she was a guest at the state fair there, attending for the first time in twenty-four years, and meeting a number of old friends and schoolmates. While there she was the guest of her sister, Mrs.
W. J. Colver, and Mrs. William Bushby.

She then spent a week in Pullman,
Washington, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Grimessey, whose marriage occurred this summer. Mrs.

made of heavy, dark material which is almost impenetrable by dust.

ing classes are also making coats, suits, and dresses. More fascinating and colorful work will be done by the girls near Christmas time, according to Miss Lelah Baxter, instructor.

Piggly-Wiggly Stores Plan Celebration

Over 3000 Piggly Wiggly stores, in a nation-wide sales event, are observing the thirteenth anniversary of their founding, October 17 to 28.
The growth of this organization in the short span of thirteen years is significant of a rapidly changing public taste. The desire to "choose for yourself" when buying groceries has now become a nationally popular method of shopping among American housewives. Over 2,500,000 customers shop daily in Piggly Wiggly stores.

Piggly Wiggly stores, featuring nationally advertised products of proven merit, has built an enviable reputation for dependability. Since the opening of the first Piggly Wiggly store, thirteen years ago, the organization has made progressive strides in adopting new merchandising methods designed to save the time of the customer and to lighten the task of shopping. With much time or little, the housewife may hurry or linger as she pleases.

Probably the biggest factor in the success of Piggly Wiggly may be attributed to the "thrift-consciousness" that developed during and after the world war. The realization of the necessity of a family budget and the savings to be effected by paying cash brought many women to these cash and carry stores, it is claimed.
